A global brand

In 1945, Hélène Lazareff launched a modern women's magazine that would become a staple in every woman's home in France and later, around the world.

Her unique vision was transformed later into a concept that has become a Global Brand. A media authority. The world's best selling fashion magazine with 46 editions worldwide, 21 million readers y 6,6 million copy sold each month.

In the 80's ELLE ready-to-wear collection was launched in Japan. Since then, ELLE has launched many collections including, eyewear, luggage, men's apparel, etc.
